KEY Speakers Bureau
Presents:

SPORTS & ADVENTURE
Michael O'Donnell

Fee Range: Below $5,000

World-Class Explorer and Mountain Guide

For over 30 years, Michael O'Donnell has been one of the world's most respected mountain guides and world-class explorers. He is also an expert corporate trainer and personal life coach. O'Donnell's life is a story of challenge, commitment, and survival. When not guiding experienced or physically challenged climbers to the summits of the world's highest peaks, O'Donnell assists top executives from around the world to develop new insights for leadership and organizational development. In May 2001, O'Donnell and his teammates reached the summit of Mt. Everest. On this expedition, Michael was instrumental in guiding climber Erik Weihenmayer, the first blind man to reach the top of the world. As an acclaimed team builder and corporate coach, Michael brings the same passion and expertise in guiding organizations to peak performance.

Jim Sundberg

Fee Range: $5,000-$7,500

MLB Six-Time Gold Glove Catcher and Successful Businessman

Jim Sundberg spent 16 years of his life as a Major League Baseball player. He is a six-time American League Gold Glove catcher, a three-time American League All-Star. After playing the game he loves, Jim worked announcing the game as a broadcaster for six years. In 1994, Jim began his own business, creating youth sports training material, which is sold nationwide. Among this material is the Practice Planner™ fundamental learning system, sold in hundreds of retail outlets. Jim's refreshing personality and warm speaking style enable him to convey valuable insights in ways people can easily understand. Using his wit and humor to blend business principles with baseball analogies.

Vince Lombardi Jr.

Fee Range: $5,000-$7,500

Son of the Late Vincent T. Lombardi; Author, Coaching for Teamwork and Vince Lombardi on Leadership

Vince Lombardi, Jr. is the author of Coaching for Teamwork and What It Takes to Be #1: Vince Lombardi on Leadership, and a powerful platform speaker. Vince has a clear and inspiring message to share about the qualities and commitment found in high performance people and winning teams. Vince is the son of the late Vincent T. Lombardi -- remembered as one of the greatest football coaches in history. In 1975 Vince made a jump from politics to professional football where he first joined the head office of the fledgling Seattle Seahawks, and later led two U.S. Football League teams as president and general manager. Lombardi has shown the remarkable ability to put people ahead of organization, allowing each individual to do what he or she does best without losing sight of team goals.

Josh Davis

Fee Range: $5,000-$7,500

Winner of Five Olympic Medals

Josh Davis has established himself as one of America's elite athletes and representatives through his extraordinary performance in and out of the pool... Considered by many to be one of the U.S.' best team captains in recent memory, Josh provides an insight and depth that is rare in sports today. As the only male athlete in the World to win three Gold Medals at the Centennial Olympic Games, Josh has established a tremendous reputation as a swimmer who excels at the most important meets. Josh followed his 1996 performance up with two Olympic Silver Medals in Sydney. A strong Christian, Josh Davis speaks to hundreds of schools and faith based organizations all over the United States, sharing his Olympic medals and messages about abstinence, good life choices and the importance of family in America.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
SCOTT PRUETT
Fee Range:  $5,000-$7,500

Top Award-Winning Indy Race Car Driver

Scott Pruett has merged his career and future with probably one of the greatest "returns" in Indy Car history. By joining team-owner U.E. "Pat" Patrick, Scott has been a key factor for both the successful return of Firestone tires to the Indy Car race circuit as well as the return of Patrick Racing as a premier race team. Scott Pruett is an emerging champion who is making something of a return himself. After winning Motor Sports Association's GTO and the SCCA Trans Am titles in the late 80's, Scott invested heavily in a promising race team only to be later faced with the two biggest challenges of his life: a bad test crash and realization that the team's car design was never going to be truly competitive. In 2012 Pruett, combined with Memo Rojas, won 9 of 12 races to win another Grand-Am Rolex Championship; he nine victories was a series record. In 2011, Pruett won the 24 Hours of Daytona, his fourth overall victory in the event. When he's not on the track, Scott makes appearances and speaks around the country. Scott possesses a winning personality and exudes complete professionalism.

JERRY MARKBREIT
Fee Range:  $5,000-$7,500

Former NFL Referee; Motivational Messages About Teamwork; Increased Performance and Managing Change

Jerry Markbreit's position as Trade and Barter Manager for the 3M Company was unique in the business world. In his position, he negotiated daily and traded millions of dollars of advertising, media time, materials, etc. with businesses throughout the world. That position, along with his experience as one of only sixteen National Football League Referees, has given him the background to develop an interesting and worthwhile message. The 1998 season was Markbreit's 43rd and last season of football officiating and his 23rd year in the NFL. He has refereed eight Championship games and a record four Super Bowls. Jerry is the author of The Armchair Referee and his autobiography entitled Born to Referee.

GARY SCOTT
Fee Range:  $7,500-$10,000

Gary is a world-renowned professional athlete, mountain guide and explorer. His accomplishments include the fastest ascent of Alaska's Mt. McKinley. He has attempted a world-record, non-oxygen, and solo, one-day, speed ascent of 29,035' Mt. Everest in 1991. Previously an extreme professional rock-climber who has led over 200 first ascents up to 5.12, Gary's experience is extensive. His professional experience includes such prestigious positions as Sponsorship Coordinator for Colorado of the American Everest Expedition in 1990-91. The Deputy Director and U.S. National Team Manager of the Triathlon-Federation/USA - 1986-90. President and Expedition Guide for Challenge, Inc. -; New Hampshire - 1986-88.

NIKKI STONE
Fee Range:  $7,500-$10,000

Olympic Aerial Skiing Champion & Peak Performance Expert

At the Olympic Winter Games in Nagano, Japan, Nikki Stone became America's first-ever Olympic champion in the sport of inverted aerial skiing. What made her performance so unbelievable was the fact that less than two years earlier a chronic injury prevented her from standing, much less walking or skiing down a slope at almost 40 miles per hour. But her tenacity and refusal to step down from a challenge brought Nikki back to the top of the mountain and the freestyle skiing podium. The majority of Nikki's time is now dedicated to encouraging and inspiring audiences around the country. Nikki Stone will add a unique, dynamic flavor to any meeting, conference, or celebration -- explaining in detail how she achieved success -- and how the audience can do the same when they "spread their wings."

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
MARK ALLEN
Six Time Ironman Triathlon World Champion
Mark had a different destiny. His first six attempts, all losses, were casualties of everything from tire flats to internal bleeding. Yet, each defeat served to galvanize his commitment to fulfilling his dream of becoming the Ironman Champion. Finally, on his seventh attempt, Mark won, beating Dave Scott in triathlon's greatest race ever. It would be the first of six Ironman victories for Allen, the last coming in 1995 at age 37, making him the oldest champion ever. He has also excelled at the Olympic distance, winning the sport's inaugural World Championships in 1989 in Avignon, France, by more than a minute. He went undefeated in 10 trips to the Nice International Championships, and from 1988-1990 he put together a winning streak of 20 races. Over the course of his racing career, which ended in 1996, he maintained a 90% average in top-three finishes.

MARK ALLEN
Fee Range: $7,500-$10,000

ART HOLST
Former NFL Referee; Author, Sunday Zebras; Humorist
When No. 33 blew the whistle, 22 giant men on the field and thousands of fans paid attention to what the man behind the number had to say. And when No. 33-the "Pro-on-the-GO"—speaks, audiences laugh, and listen in rapt attention. NFL's official No. 33 is Art Holst, a man with a rich background in business, sports, and civic affairs. Holst has been a soldier, a salesman, a businessman, and a civic leader as well as a football official. He's packed a "heap of living" in his life and he tells about it in his fascinating presentations. His close-up view of pro football provides anecdotes, lore, and lessons that never fail to captivate an audience. These, plus a sincere enthusiastic interest in people and a broad business background, provide the foundation for his messages of inspiration, always spiced with clean, rib-tickling humor.

ART HOLST
Fee Range: $7,500-$10,000

JEFF BLATNICK
Olympic Gold Medalist in the Greco-Roman Wrestling, 1984 Summer Olympic Games
It is a moment we will remember forever—Jeff Blatnick dropping to his knees and bringing his hands together in thanks for winning the Gold Medal in wrestling at the 1984 Summer Olympic Games. But there is much more to this Olympic Champion. Just two years earlier, Blatnick found out that he had Hodgkin's Disease. After a series of daily radiation treatments, he resumed training. When he won the Gold Medal, the result seemed merely impossible. Blatnick's enthusiasm, sincerity, and love of life has kept him focused on a single purpose: overcoming adversity. Using personal experiences, Blatnick guides people through the different perspectives we commonly formulate when facing challenges or adversity. Perception influences our attitude, our performance and our ability to set goals.

JEFF BLATNICK
Fee Range: $7,500-$10,000

JOEY CHEEK
Olympic Gold, Silver & Bronze Medalist; Humanitarian; Darfur Activist
Joey Cheek won the bronze medal in the 1,000 meter event at the 2002 Salt Lake City Olympics. Cheek fulfilled a lifelong dream at the 2006 Olympics in Torino, Italy, where he won gold in the 500 meters and silver in the 1,000 meters. That same season Cheek won the World Sprint Championships and became the first-ever recipient of US Speed Skating's "Eric Heiden Athlete of the Year" award. Perhaps Cheek's most notable effort, however, began off the ice when he made the remarkable gesture of donating $40,000 in winnings to Right To Play, an athlete-driven international humanitarian organization that uses sport and play as a tool to help young people in the most disadvantaged areas of the world. Cheek continues to work to call attention to Darfur on an ongoing basis. His influence in doing so earned him spot on Time magazine's 100 Most Influential People list in May 2006 issue.

JOEY CHEEK
Fee Range: $7,500-$10,000

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
JERRY GLANVILLE
Fee Range: $7,500-$10,000
Former Head Coach of the Atlanta Falcons & Houston Oilers; CBS Sports Analyst
Jerry Glanville, former head coach of the Atlanta Falcons and Houston Oilers, begins his second year with CBS Sports as an analyst on the "NFL Today Show", CBS's NFL pregame studio show. He joins host Jim Nantz, Craig James, Randy Cross, Mike Ditka and Marcus Allen in the studio. Glanville, an NFL game analyst for five seasons for Fox Sports, will continue as co-host of HBO's weekly football series "Inside the NFL." He served as head coach of the Atlanta Falcons for four seasons (1990-93). His best season in Atlanta came in 1991, when the team posted an 11-5 mark. He was the head coach of the Houston Oilers from 1986 through 1989, leading them to the playoffs in his last three seasons. In 1991, Glanville was inducted into the Atlanta Country Hall of Fame. On February 28, 2007, he accepted the head coaching position at Portland State University, his first college head coaching job and he will be PSU's 12th head coach in the history of the program.

TERRY BOWDEN
Fee Range: $10,000-15,000
ABC College Football Analyst; Former College Head Coach
Terry Bowden made the same dramatic entrance into the broadcasting industry as he did as a head coach in college football. He has become one of the top studio analysts in college football, co-hosting television's most distinguished studio show on ABC Sports. Sitting beside John Saunders at ABC's New York City studio, his energy and insight are captivating viewers all over the country. Bowden has been ultra-successful as a student, an athlete, and a college football coach. He inspires his audiences to reach beyond their limitations to achieve success. Enthusiasm, contagious optimism, confidence and work ethic are the qualities that have made him successful throughout his life.

JOHN NABER
Fee Range: $10,000-15,000
Olympic Gold Medal Swimmer; Network TV Announcer; Author, Awaken the Olympian Within
As a performer and observer of athletic excellence, John Naber is able to share the "behind the scenes" stories of famous Olympic athletes and their accomplishments. He is also the author of Awaken the Olympian Within featuring stories from America's greatest Olympic motivators. In his presentations, Naber uses humor in matching his comments to the specific needs of the audience; he has developed a series of interchangeable "power-paragraphs" fit for any occasion from a sports event to a sales and management seminar. Along with his individual goal setting methods, he uses his experience as an Olympic swimmer and his observations as a sports announcer to illustrate the process of seeing dreams come true.

MITCH GAYLORD
Fee Range: $10,000-15,000
The First American Gymnast to Score a Perfect “10” in the Olympic Games
Mitch Gaylord first thrilled the world in 1984 as he led the United States Olympic gymnastics team to its Gold Medal victory. In addition to being the first American in history to receive a perfect 10," Gaylord went on to capture a Silver medal for Vaulting and two Bronze medals for Rings and Parallel Bars. As the number one ranked gymnast in 1983 and 1984, Gaylord invented two skills now named internationally after him—the Gaylord Flip and the Gaylord Two. In 1986, Gaylord made his acting debut in Columbia Pictures' "American Anthem." In 1988, he hosted his own television series "Fan Club." In 1995, he was inducted into UCLA's Hall of Fame. At the 1996 Centennial Olympic Games in Atlanta, Gaylord served as a journalist/broadcaster providing human interest segments and expert commentary.
KEY Speakers Bureau
3500 E. Coast Highway, Suite 6, Corona del Mar, CA 92625
800-675-1175, Fax: 949-675-1478

JIM ABBOTT  Fee Range:  $10,000-15,000
Former Major League Baseball Pitcher
Overcoming the disability he was born with, Jim Abbott became a successful major league baseball pitcher who inspires audiences to adapt and reach their potential for personal and professional success. Born with only one hand, Jim Abbott persevered to not only pitch for Major League baseball, but skipped the minor leagues entirely to make his professional debut—only the 15th player in the history of the league ever to do so. He also pitched for Team USA, helping win America's first Olympic Gold medal in baseball. Yet, despite his accomplishments, Abbott possesses one of the most humble and self-effacing demeanors you'll find, which endears him to audiences captivated by his amazing story. Today Jim Abbott is a professional motivational speaker. He has been featured in USA Today, Newsweek, Time, Sports Illustrated, Parade Magazine, People, and Baseball America.

SAM WYCHE  Fee Range:  $10,000-15,000
Former NFL Head Coach for the Cincinnati Bengals; Former NBC Sports Analyst
Over the course of his 27-year NFL career, Sam Wyche served as a quarterback and coached such teams as the Cincinnati Bengals, the Washington Redskins, and the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and was a quarterback coach for the Buffalo Bills. As one of football's most respected head coaches, he has two division titles, a 1988 Super Bowl appearance, and NFL and AFC Coach of the Year awards to his credit. He ended his coaching career in 1995, and began broadcasting the NFL for NBC. Wyche shares his approach to achieving success on the field which can be adapted to any endeavor. He weaves stories of triumph and work ethic into an inspiring message.

JOHN CASSIS  Fee Range:  $10,000-15,000
Former California Angels Baseball Player & Chicago Bears Coach
As a former Angel's baseball player, John Cassis has become one of the most respected voices on increasing personal performance, building winning teams and developing the art of leadership. Customizing his presentations to the specific needs of each client, he uses humor and motivation to explain his concepts for creating an environment where people are valued and effective teams are built. His newsletter Catching a Second Wind brings readers motivational insights, practical ideas, and inspirational thoughts for achieving greater levels of performance. Cassis has served as a pre-game inspirational speaker since 1983 for the Chicago Bears.

CARY MULLEN  Fee Range:  $10,000-15,000
Two-Time Olympian and World Cup Champion Skier and Performance Expert
As two-time Olympian and World Cup Champion and an inductee to the Canadian Ski Hall of Fame Cary Mullen is an internationally recognized sports personality. He is a keynote speaker and business leader who began his quest for success by believing in a dream. Today Mullen shares his Process for Success™ to help individuals and businesses develop The Champion Within™. He transcends the world of sports to help you and your organization reach even higher levels of excellence. Imagine the thrill and the fear of standing at the top of the world's most revered mountain, knowing that you will risk your life in your quest for success. Take a ride with Mullen and you will feel the adrenalin and the excitement of skiing at 151 km per hour (97 mph) and the thrill of Olympic glory and World Cup Victory. He is a master at presenting powerful life lessons with humor and relevance.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
JIM BOUTON

21-Game Winning Pitcher for the New York Yankees; Creator, "Big League Chew" Bubble Gum; Author of Ball Four/The Final Pitch

Jim Bouton, the Yankee 21 game winner, TV reporter, actor, inventor, and businessman, is also a major league speaker. Bouton rose from a benchwarmer in high school to an all-star pitcher and World Series winner with the New York Yankees. His return to baseball in 1978, after an eight year retirement, was an unprecedented comeback. During that time Bouton developed "Big League Chew", the number one selling bubble gum in America. A hard-driving creative businessman, Bouton now has his own product development company. He also is the author of the best-seller, Ball Four/The Final Pitch. Drawing from his own personal experiences, Bouton's programs are entertaining and memorable.

DAVID DRAVECKY

Major League Baseball Pitcher, Author and Cancer Survivor

David Dravecky pitched for the San Diego Padres during the 1984 National League championships and the World Series. He was traded to the San Francisco Giants in 1987, where he again pitched in the National League Championships. His 5-0 opening day victory was overshadowed by the discovery of cancer in his pitching arm. After a lengthy recovery against all odds, he made a triumphant return to the mound and pitched the Giants in a 4-3 win over Cincinnati. But his comeback was short lived. The return of cancer and amputation of his left arm forced his retirement from professional baseball in 1989. Dave now travels the country addressing a wide variety of audiences. His motivational and inspirational message addresses loss and suffering, encouragement and hope, reaching out to others, saying goodbye to the past, and faith.

DOMINIQUE DAWES

Gold Medal Winning Olympian and Motivational Speaker

Never content to rest on her phenomenal success as an Olympic gymnast—Dominique Dawes won a history-making bronze medal in floor exercises as a key member of the gold medal women’s team in the 1996 Olympics—she remains active as a coach and mentor in the sport. Displaying the same focus and commitment that marked her gymnastics career, capped by her selection as "Sportsperson of the Year", this three-time Olympian maps out the path to success as she explores her personal and professional setbacks and triumphs. Dawes motivates her audiences to enhance their lives by incorporating these winning techniques. Named co-chair of the President’s Council on Fitness, Sports and Nutrition in 2010, she encourages audiences to set ambitious goals, accomplish them and fulfill their own dreams.

PETER VIDMAR

Two-Time Olympic Gold Medalist; Highest Scoring Gymnast in USA History

Peter Vidmar knows about the intangibles that separate the best from the rest. Vidmar is a two-time Olympic Gold Medalist and one of the highest scoring gymnasts in USA history. As a team captain and top performer for the USA men's gymnastics team, he led his teammates to their stunning victory in the 1984 Olympics. To Vidmar, excellence is not a final destination but a never-ending journey. He is also the author of Risk, Originality and Virtuosity: The Keys to a Perfect 10, which is also one of his most requested presentations. His presentation excites audiences and includes a thrilling pommel horse demonstration. Today, he spends much of his time translating his skills as a leader and motivator to business audiences across the nation.
SUSAN ERSHLER

Fee Range: $10,000-15,000

History-Making Mt. Everest Summiteer and Business Executive; Author, Together on Top of the World

On May 16, 2002, Sue and Phil Ershler became the first couple to climb the Seven Summits; this accomplishment marked the end of their ten-year journey. It is this considerable achievement that led to global media coverage. During those same ten years, Sue climbed the corporate ladder to the position of Regional Vice President of Sales for a global telecommunications corporation. Consistently earning annual President’s Club sales awards, she balanced her time between her corporate responsibilities and climbing mountains. She uses her training as a sales leader as the foundation of her training for climbing mountains. Her leadership message begins with visualizing a goal, no matter how difficult or out of reach. She continues with techniques to improve focus and discipline and shows how essential teamwork is to achievement.

JEFF EVANS

Fee Range: $10,000-15,000

Mountain Climber, Physician Assistant

Jeff has spent over half of his life traveling the continents in search of adventure. From guiding the Duchess of York on a rock climb to leading a blind man to the summit of Mt Everest, Denali, and El Capitan, Jeff has sought out challenges that require intense preparation, teamwork and commitment. Jeff colorfully translates the lessons he has learned from his adventures into applicable themes we can use in our daily professional and private lives. He draws on many of the metaphors hidden in the world of adventure and brings them to his audience in a humorously inspiring way. These messages are potent and tactile...reminding his audiences that it is critical to focus on detail, embrace small successes, and disregard the expectations others create in order to achieve our own potential. Jeff is now preparing for the “7th summit,” a climb up Papua New Guinea’s Carstensz Pyramid. His ongoing adventures continue to create “the perfect message” useful in today’s rapidly evolving world...one of teamwork, vision, focus and fun.

ROBYN BENINCASA

Fee Range: $10,000-15,000

World Champion Adventure Racer; Founder of World Class Teams; San Diego City Firefighter

Robyn Benincasa expresses full blame for inspiring people to do insane things like climb Mount Kilimanjaro, run their first triathlon, start their own adventure racing team, or even start their own businesses. Beginning with her first job, where she was named “Rookie of the Year” for a Fortune 500 pharmaceutical company, to today, in her life as a world champion adventure racer and firefighter for the country’s first all-female crew, she has been inspiring people to be their best and tackle any challenge. Also the founder of the Project Athena Foundation, a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping women who have endured medical setbacks achieve their athletic dreams, Robyn reaches out and shows people how to survive and thrive in any condition.

BOB LOVE

Fee Range: $10,000-15,000

NBA Chicago Bulls Legend Who Overcame Several Obstacles to Become the Inspiration He Is Today

Few life stories are as dramatic as Bob Love’s. For seven straight years Bob was the Chicago Bulls' highest scorer. Despite his success on the court, Love was unable to do something most people take for granted, talk without stuttering. After retiring from basketball, he tried for seven years to find a steady job, and in 1984 was hired as a dishwasher at Nordstrom for $4.45 per hour. After six months of exemplary work, Love was noticed by Nordstrom's owner who offered to pay for speech therapy. After representing Nordstrom, Love made his way back to the Bulls and is now director of community relations and is an inspiring and motivational speaker.
BRIAN JONES
Fee Range: $10,000-15,000

Around-the-World Balloonist
Brian Jones, along with Bertrand Piccard, co-piloted the first successful uninterrupted circumnavigation of the world on board the balloon Breitling Orbiter 3. Among the ranks of legendary aviators, Jones shares the story of an ordinary man who rises to extraordinary heights of achievement. He takes his audiences on the adventure of a lifetime, tackling obstacles of weather, political intrigue, sub-zero temperatures and sleep deprivation. A balloonist since 1986, Jones served as an on-the-ground project manager for previous global attempts and oversaw construction of the Breitling’s gondola and flight systems. In addition to setting seven world records in the Orbiter 3, Jones and Piccard won a million-dollar prize, which they used to set up a foundation for children suffering in unreported or forgotten circumstances throughout the world. Jones is also co-author of Around the World in 20 Days.

JOETTA CLARK DIGGS
Fee Range: $10,000-15,000

Four-Time Olympic Track Star
For more than three decades, Joetta Clark Diggs has reigned as America's queen of middle distance running. With ambition, determination, and commitment to achieving her goals, she has become track and field's most respected 800-meter runner. A four-time Olympian, she has competed in every U.S.A. Championship or Olympic Trial since 1979, winning over nine championship titles and tenaciously defending her top ten American ranking for over 20 years. The daughter of immortalized educator, Joe Clark—the inspiration for the hit movie "Lean on Me"—Diggs is a moving personality who motivates audiences to battle against all odds and remains committed to the single goal of success.

JOHN AMATT
Fee Range: $10,000-15,000

Legendary Mountain Climber and Everest Expedition Leader
John Amatt is renowned in the international mountaineering community for making the first ever climb of Europe's highest and steepest mountain face—the 5000 foot "Vertical Mile" Troll Wall in Norway. In 1981, he was leader of the 1st Canadian climbing expedition to Western China, which used camels to approach a 24,757-foot mountain before skiing to the summit, this being perhaps the highest peak in the world to have been ascended and descended entirely on skis. And more recently, he was the principal organizer and a leader of Canada's first successful expedition to reach the top of the world—the 29,035 foot summit of Mount Everest—a climb that was televised live throughout Canada and on “ABC Nightline” in the United States. John’s adventures are related in his autobiography, Straight to the Top and Beyond, in which he uses the metaphor of his own adventures to develop a nine-step approach for scaling the heights in today's rapidly changing, unpredictable global business environments.

VINCE PAPALE
Fee Range: $10,000-15,000

Former Philadelphia Eagles Walk-on; Subject of the Movie "Invincible"; Cancer Survivor
Vince Papale's story is the subject of the major motion picture from Disney entitled "Invincible". Papale overcame tremendous odds to become the oldest rookie in the history of the NFL. He was voted “Man of the Year” by the Eagles in 1978 for his many charitable activities and honored by the NFL. He is a colorectal cancer survivor who is sought after as a speaker to raise awareness on cancer prevention. Papale has served as chairman & co-chairman for various associations including the Philadelphia Vietnam Veterans, Spina Bifida Association, Multiple Sclerosis Society and the American Heart Association. Vince’s inspirational journey from humble working class beginnings and troubled home life, to successful professional athlete and businessman is a story that audiences of all demographics will relate to.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
KEY Speakers Bureau
3500 E. Coast Highway, Suite 6, Corona del Mar, CA  92625
800-675-1175, Fax: 949-675-1478

PETER HILLARY
Fee Range: $10,000-15,000
Extraordinary Mountain Climber, Adventurer & Explorer
The name Peter Hillary is synonymous with adventure. Hillary is a powerful and dynamic speaker, and he takes his audience "with him" on his many extraordinary experiences: to the summit of Mt Everest, traversing Antarctica to the South Pole; feeding a pod of sharks, or making a terrifying descent of K2 down a vast vertical rock face in a vicious storm. With his 25 years of experience in extreme environments, he ably connects such dramatic achievements to the challenges faced by individuals and teams striving for excellence, coping with change, or overcoming obstacles in their own fields. Like his father, Sir Edmund Hillary, Peter has climbed Mt. Everest and has reached the South Pole overland, recognized as two of the most significant accomplishments in the world of adventuring and exploration. He is the author of five books, including his latest, In the Ghost Country, which has been reviewed as a beautifully written and highly evocative story of what it is like to endure some of the harshest environments on earth. He also assists in raising funds for the Himalayan Trust, which was established by his father and runs 42 schools & hospitals in Nepal.

TOM FLICK
Fee Range: $15,000-$20,000
Former NFL Quarterback and Rose Bowl Champion; Motivational Speaker
Tom Flick is a former Rose Bowl Champion, Pac-10 Conference "Player of the Year" and successful NFL quarterback for seven seasons. Today he is a dynamic, highly sought after speaker who has delivered presentations to a client list that includes Starbucks, Dell Computers, NAPA Auto Parts, FleetBoston Financial, Stanford Medical Center, The Opryland Hotel and the US Navy and countless educational organizations. As President of his own communications and consulting company, Flick has tackled the business world with the same passion, focus and spirit that earned him honors as a collegiate and professional quarterback. He has a gift to connect with people and an ability for motivating them to succeed and provides solutions that allow people to become peak performers both personally and professionally.

JANET EVANS
Fee Range: $15,000-$20,000
Olympic Gold Medalist & World Champion Swimmer
Janet Evans was one of America's best female distance swimmers. She was a member of the 1988, 1992, and 1996 Olympic teams. In those three Olympics, Evans took home five medals. In addition, Evans has won three World Championship gold medals, and one silver. She was selected as the Sullivan Award Winner (an honor bestowed on the nation's top amateur athlete), as well as being named the Sportswoman of the Year by the United States Olympic Committee. Since retiring, Evans has been an Assistant Swim Coach at her alma mater, USC, and has served as a television commentator for various swimming events worldwide. Her positive attitude and ability to maintain her competitive edge is conveyed to audiences throughout the country.

BRANDI CHASTAIN
Fee Range: $15,000-$20,000
Member of the Olympic and World Champion Gold-Medal-Winning U.S. Women's National Soccer Team
One of the most recognizable figures in women's soccer, American defender Brandi Chastain became an international celebrity at the 1999 FIFA Women's World Cup after she blasted the USA's game-winning penalty kick past China, fell to her knees and peeled off her jersey in celebration. She is currently an assistant coach at the top-five-ranked women's soccer team at Santa Clara University. She has been featured around the world as a spokesperson for Nike, Volvo, Powerbar, Gallery Furniture, and 24-Hour Fitness, among others.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
ROCKY BLEIER  Fee Range:  $15,000 - $20,000

Legendary NFL Running Back, Pittsburgh Steelers; Subject of the Television Movie, "Fighting Back"

Legendary member of the four-time World Champion Pittsburgh Steelers football team, Rocky Bleier is one of America's most courageous sportsmen. Crippled by enemy fire during the Vietnam conflict, he fought overwhelming odds and demonstrated the courage and determination to overcome his injuries, becoming one of the NFL's premier running backs. His remarkable story became the subject of the book, "Fighting Back", which was recreated in the 1980 ABC-TV movie of the same name. In his presentations, he motivates audiences to keep on striving for greater accomplishments, employing a dynamic style with real-life stories and an appropriate injection of humor.

CAROLYN PECK  Fee Range:  $15,000-$20,000

Head Coach of the University of Florida Lady Gator's Basketball Team; Former Coach of WNBA Orlando Miracle

In just four years as head coach of the University of Florida women’s basketball team, Carolyn Peck has molded the Gators into model student-athletes. Not only has Florida competed in the post-season in three of her four seasons, but the Gators have accumulated 27 Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll accolades, the best four-year total in program history. Peck returned to the college hard court after serving as Head Coach and General Manager of the WNBA's Orlando Miracle since April 1999. Peck was instrumental as head coach and general manager in the success of the Orlando Miracle's inaugural season. She led them to finish tied for second place in the Eastern Conference. Peck is also an on-air commentator for ESPN and served as expert guest analyst for their coverage of the WNBA Playoffs.

JIM MORRIS  Fee Range:  $15,000- $20,000

Former High-School Teacher Turned Major League Baseball Player; Author & Subject of the Film, "The Rookie"

Jim Morris' Cinderella story is testimony to the power of dreams and their ability to inspire and transform human life. Originally a top baseball prospect, Morris's dream of becoming a major league player was derailed by serious arm injuries. At the age of 35 and some 11 years after retiring from minor league baseball, Morris was giving a speech to his high school team when his players challenged him to pursue his dream of pitching in the major leagues if they won their division title. Morris' team fulfilled their part of the bargain, which committed him to a big league tryout, where he miraculously threw 12 consecutive pitches at a rate of 98 mph, almost 10 mph harder than he had some 15 years earlier! After just 3 months in the minors, Morris returned to Texas as a major league player. Morris co-wrote the critically acclaimed book entitled The Rookie, which was made into a hit move starring Dennis Quaid.

BART STARR  Fee Range:  $15,000- $20,000

NFL Hall of Fame and Former Legendary Green Bay Packer Quarterback

Bart Starr played for 17 years with the Green Bay Packers, many of those years under perhaps the greatest coach of all time, Vince Lombardi. Starr led his team to more NFL Championships than any other quarterback. Since suffering the loss of his son, Bret, in 1988 to the problems of substance abuse, Starr has become a spokesman who addresses the problem to audiences across the country. Starr's presentation, which informs and enlightens, is also dramatized and powered by his very personal relationship to the problem. His presentation successfully underscores the fact that the problem of substance abuse knows no boundaries as to race, religion, or economic status.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
PATT WILLIAMS
Fee Range: $15,000-$20,000
Sr. Executive Vice President, NBA’s Orlando Magic; Author
Pat Williams is the senior vice president of the NBA’s Orlando Magic. After serving for seven years in the United States Army, Williams spent seven years in the Philadelphia Phillies organization. Since 1968, he has been affiliated with teams in Chicago, Atlanta, Philadelphia, including the 1983 World Champion 76ers, and now the Orlando Magic which he co-founded in 1987 and helped lead to the NBA finals in 1995. In 1996, Williams was named as one of the 50 most influential people in NBA history by a national publication. Among the books he has authored are: Making Magic, The Power Within You; Secrets From The Mountain: Ten Lessons For Success In Life with David Wimbish; How To Be Like Mike: Life Lessons From Basketball's Best with Michael Weinreb and his most recent, How to Be Like Walt: Capturing the Disney Magic Every Day of Your Life.

LYN ST. JAMES
Fee Range: $15,000-$20,000
Award-Winning Race Car Driver
Winner of the 1992 Indianapolis 500 "Rookie of the Year", Lyn St. James has set 31 national and international records during her professional racing career and is renowned as one of the top race car drivers in the world. James is also a successful businesswoman and speaker. In her writing debut, Ride of Your Life, James drives you into an in-depth look at the racing world from her own experience from behind the wheel. She has been featured in USA Today, The New York Times and Sports Illustrated, as well as appearing on ABC, NBC, ESPN and Lifetime Cable Television for Women. Through her various endeavors and contributions, James continues to be an inspirational role model to millions.

GREG GUMBEL
Fee Range: $15,000-$20,000
Emmy Award-Winning Sportscaster
It is upon almost 25 years of broadcast experience which Greg Gumbel draws to entertain and motivate audiences of all ages and types, supporting his comments with videotaped sports highlights that are educational and enjoyable. A member of NBC Sports since June 1994, Gumbel is the host of “The NFL on NBC”. He does play-by-play for “The NBA on NBC” and for Major League Baseball. Gumbel was also NBC's daytime host for the 1996 Summer Olympic Games. During his five years with CBS Sports, he was the prime-time host for the 1994 Winter Olympic Games. Greg has been a member of the March of Dimes National Board of Trustees since 1996 and he is serving his second 5-year term in that capacity.

JOHNNY RUTHERFORD
Fee Range: $15,000-$20,000
Three-Time Indianapolis 500 Winner; Winner of 27 Indy Car Races; Commentator, Indy Car Race Coverage
Indy Car World Series champion and three-time Indy 500 winner, Texas native Johnny Rutherford knows the meaning of hard work and determination. Beginning his racing career in 1959, Rutherford won over 27 Indy Car races and received dozens of awards and accolades for his success. Since his retirement from driving in 1989, he has been seen on ESPN and NBC networks as an expert commentator for their Indy Car race coverage. He has appeared at numerous events and served as spokesperson for several companies and products. He is currently an advisor for the Indy Racing League. Rutherford's approachable demeanor and charismatic appeal are a perfect fit for any event.
BRUCE JENNER
Fee Range: $15,000- $20,000
1976 Olympic Decathlon Winner; Named "The World's Greatest Athlete"

Bruce Jenner captivated the world when he broke the world record by scoring 8,634 points in the decathlon at the 1976 Olympic games in Montreal and earned the title, “World’s Greatest Athlete.” Jenner has become a highly respected motivational speaker, sports commentator, entrepreneur, commercial spokesperson, television personality, actor, producer and author. Corporate and community audiences are captivated by Jenner's unique Olympic, personal and professional success story, which he highlights in speeches around the world. His message, “Finding the Champion Within,” is relevant to people everywhere, whether they're high school athletes or corporate Vice Presidents.

BOBBY RAHAL
Fee Range: $15,000- $20,000
Indianapolis 500 Winner; Three-Time CART Indy Car World Series Champion

1986 Indy 500 winner and three-time CART World Series Champion, Bobby Rahal is truly a champion among champions who personifies what a true sportsman is. Rahal is a graduate of Denison University, where he earned a Bachelor's degree in History. He is an articulate spokesman for the sport, as evidenced by his active involvement in a variety of community activities. Most significantly, Rahal is clearly one of the finest Indy Car drivers of our time and is currently enjoying co-ownership of Rahal/Letterman Racing team with late night talk show host David Letterman.

DAN JANSSEN
Fee Range: $15,000- $20,000
Olympic Gold Medalist Speed Skater

A 1994 Olympic speed skating gold medalist, Dan Jansen knows about big dreams and the dedication needed to make them come true. Although records and medals seemed his for the taking, his dream of an Olympic Gold eluded him when, in 1992, he stumbled after learning his sister had passed away. Heartbroken, he could have quit, but he didn't. Instead, he dug down, searched for strength, and raced for his dream. Jansen embodies the competitive spirit, and his story inspires us to reach for our own personal goal.

STACY ALLISON
Fee Range: $15,000- $20,000
First American Woman to Climb Mt. Everest; Author, Beyond the Limits: A Woman's Triumph on Everest

At the age of 21, Stacy Allison began major alpine climbing in earnest and achieved rapid success. Within a year, Stacy reached the top of Alaska's Mt. McKinley, the highest point in North America, and was part of the first successful women's ascent of Ama Dablam, the 22,495-foot peak known as Nepal's Matterhorn. On September 29, 1988, after twenty-nine days on the mountain, Stacy became the first American woman to reach the summit of Mt. Everest. Stacy's first book, Beyond the Limits: A Woman's Triumph on Everest, is a suspenseful, triumphant adventure story. Her second book, Many Mountains to Climb; Reflections on Competence, Courage and Commitment is an exciting anecdotal account of climbing challenges practically applied to help you more surely plot your way to professional and personal success. Stacy Allison brings a vast range of experiences and knowledge to her energetic and dynamic presentations.
BONNIE BLAIR

Fee Range: $15,000-$20,000

Three-Time Olympic Gold Medalist

Bonnie Blair powered her way to five speed skating titles in three Olympics from 1988 to 1994 and set numerous records in her long and successful career. She is the only female skater to win gold medals in three straight Olympics. In 1992, she received the James L. Sullivan Award, and in 1994 won almost every American award for "Sports Woman of the Year". Blair retired in March 1995 and is active in many charitable organizations. Blair is widely admired for her combination of modesty and confidence and is now a favorite on the lecture circuit with her highly motivating speech, "Achieving Your Personal Best".

GALE SAYERS

Fee Range: $15,000- $20,000

NFL Hall of Famer; Author of I Am Third, the inspiration for "Brian's Song"

Gale Sayers made football history and has touched the lives of millions of Americans. As the Chicago Bears' legendary number 40, Sayers was NFL Rookie of the Year in 1965 and scored a record six touchdowns in one game. After only three years in the NFL, he was voted the best halfback in the first 50 years of professional football. He was also the youngest player ever to be inducted into the Professional Football Hall of Fame. He went on to write the popular book I Am Third, which was made into the movie “Brian's Song", depicting the relationship between Brian Piccolo, who died of cancer, and Gale Sayers. The title of the book is Gale Sayers' philosophy of life: "The Lord is first; my family and friends are second; and I am third."

JIM PALMER

Fee Range: $15,000-25,000

Member of the Baseball Hall of Fame, Broadcaster for the Baltimore Orioles & Corporate Spokesperson

Jim Palmer, the only American League Hall of Fame Pitcher to win the Cy Young Award three times, was elected to the 1990 Baseball Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility. He is the youngest pitcher in history to pitch a World Series shut-out and the only pitcher to win World Series games in each of three decades. Today, he is a popular broadcaster on ABC, ESPN, WHTS and WMAR in Baltimore. Palmer has been an activist on behalf of the Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation for nearly two decades, serving much of that time as its national sports chairman. In 1991, the first Jim Palmer Celebrity Golf Tournament was established and it continues to be successful in raising money for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. In addition, Palmer has assisted in a variety of community causes including D.A.R.E. and Alzheimer's and arthritis charities. He has been the sports representative for Jockey Underwear since the spring of '80, and in '83 he was the sports recipient of the American Image Award, sponsored by the Male Apparel Industry and the Men's Fashion Association of America.

KEN CARTER

Fee Range: $15,000- $25,000

Coach; Author; Educator; Inspiration for the Film, "Coach Carter"

Famed basketball coach Ken Carter sent a powerful message when he literally locked his undefeated, state play-off bound team out of the gym and forced them to hit the books and stop counting on athletic potential as the only ticket out of a tough, inner city life. The film, "Coach Carter," based on the lock-out, is just one more testimony to the strength of his convictions. A successful businessman when he accepted the head basketball coach position at Richmond High School, Carter had a monumental task at hand: the students were failing academically and the athletic programs were in a pathetic state. Within two years, he had virtually single-handedly turned around the school, physically and mentally cleaning house. At the podium, Coach Carter scores with hard-hitting advice about accountability, integrity, teamwork and leadership. He is the founder and chairman of the Coach Ken Carter Foundation, a non-profit organization that develops, promotes and provides education, training and mentoring programs for African-American youths.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
JIM CRAIG
Fee Range: $20,000-$25,000
Olympic Gold Medalist; Goalie, 1980 U.S. "Miracle on Ice" Hockey Team
During a trying time for America, the 1980 Olympic hockey team silenced all naysayers when it defeated the heavily favored Russians on its historic journey to Olympic gold. The legendary tale of the team led by Jim Craig was immortalized in the Disney feature film “Miracle”. His historic journey and the lessons he learned have helped Craig become a powerful motivational speaker. In his moving presentation, Olympian and professional speaker Jim Craig reveals how commitment, preparation, purpose, and effort melded 20 individuals into the team that accomplished the greatest sports moment of the 20th century. Drawing upon both his experiences as a world-class athlete and as an accomplished businessman, he specifically tailors his presentation for audiences around the concepts of self-motivation and team motivation.

VINCE POSCENTE
Fee Range: $20,000-$25,000
Olympic Speed Skier & Authority on Peak Performance; Best Selling Author, The Age of Speed
An authority on speed and focus, Vince Poscente knows the mindset needed to meet peak performance demands. During the Olympic Winter Games in Albertville, France, Poscente raced to a Canadian national record of 135 miles per hour on skis. Incredibly, at the age of 26, Poscente had never ski raced before. He went from a recreational skier to the Olympic finals in just four years! Poscente is also author of the book InVinceAble Principles: Essential Tools for Life Mastery. His story outlines the innovative techniques he used to reach his Olympic goal, Poscente's 5C Strategy: Clarity of Vision, Commitment, Consistency, Confidence, and Control. He tailors his 5Cs to his audience and shows them how to apply each technique to make their business and personal goals a reality. Poscente applied these same principles to achieve his masters in organizational management, in an award-winning real estate career and in the corporate world as Vice President of North America's largest real estate investment service.

MARV LEVY
Fee Range: $20,000-$25,000
Pro Football Hall of Fame Head Coach, Buffalo Bills; Prostate Cancer Survivor
Former Buffalo Bills Head Coach, Marv Levy is best known as an intelligent and analytical football coach. Levy led the Buffalo Bills to an unprecedented four straight Super Bowls. He speaks to audiences on a wide range of topics, many of them related to the secrets of successful leadership. Having guided his team to eight postseason appearances in 11 full seasons, Levy knows what it takes to lead a team to victory. When he was diagnosed with prostate cancer in 1995, he used the same strategy of mental preparation, training, and strengthening of spirit that served him so well in gaining his team victory. With this single-minded determination, he overcame his disease and is now in the prime of health. Levy has recently authored his autobiography, Where Else Would You Rather Be.

BROOKS ROBINSON
Fee Range: $20,000-$25,000
Hall of Fame Baseball Player for the Baltimore Orioles
Former Baltimore Oriole Brooks Robinson set baseball records for his dexterity on third base and fielding ability. He was named World Series “Most Valuable Player”, All Star Game “Most Valuable Player”, and American League “Most Valuable Player”. For sixteen consecutive years he won the Gold Glove Award. In 1983, he was inducted into the Major League Baseball Hall of Fame. Today, he is a successful businessman, philanthropist, and public speaker.
KEY Speakers Bureau
3500 E. Coast Highway, Suite 6, Corona del Mar, CA  92625
800-675-1175, Fax: 949-675-1478

BOBBY UNSER
Fee Range:  $20,000-$25,000
Three-Time Indianapolis 500 Winner; Winner of Over 35 Indy Car Races

Bobby Unser has clearly become one of the most insightful spokespersons in the history of auto racing. Leaning on his championship-studded and versatile racing career as an incredible resource for racing knowledge, Bobby Unser has eloquently opened the intricate world of racing to the sports public. Unser is a relentless competitor who has chalked up a Hall of Fame career, which includes three Indianapolis 500 wins and thirty-five overall Indy Car victories. For roughly a decade, he has been the featured Indy Car race analyst/commentator for ABC network, which has helped perfect his presentation skills. His friendliness and endless energy are almost contagious, which make him one of the best personalities for meeting people and addressing groups.

DUSTY BAKER
Fee Range:  $25,000-$30,000
Legendary Baseball Manager

In 2003, Dusty Baker guided the Chicago Cubs to their first National League Central Division title and into the postseason for the first time since 1998. They ousted the high-powered Atlanta Braves in five games in the National League Division Series and took the Florida Marlins to seven games to decide the National League champion. This is a significant accomplishment, as the Chicago Cubs finished 2003 in fourth place and improved their record by 21 wins. The Cubs finished the second half of the season with the third best record in baseball-a .603 winning percentage. The same year Baker won major league baseball's Managers Move of the Year award. He is very involved in the community, providing leadership to charitable, health, youth, and law enforcement causes. An outstanding speaker, his most popular subjects are teamwork and personal excellence.

ANN BANCROFT
Fee Range:  $25,000-$30,000
First Woman to Ski to the Northpole; Author, No Horizon Is So Far

As the first woman to cross the ice to both the North and South Poles, Ann Bancroft leads audiences of all ages on a variety of historic journeys with interpersonal stories of leadership and adventure combined with historic film and still imagery. Whether Ann is sharing stories from the recent Bancroft Arnesen Expedition - a 1,717-mile journey on foot to become the first two women to cross the continent of Antarctica (2001), she translates her challenges and accomplishments to everyday life and empowers each person to work individually or as a team to reach their goals. Ann and Liv’s Antarctic expedition helped shape Bancroft Arnesen Explore, designed to share Ann and Liv’s stories with audiences around the globe through multi-media presentations, short films, workshops, curricula and lectures as a way to motivate people to reach for their own dreams, particularly women and girls.

ROY FIRESTONE
Fee Range:  $25,000-$30,000
Award-Winning Television Sports Personality; Impressionist; Humorist and Multimedia Performer

Roy Firestone, former host of ESPN's "Up Close", is one of America's most versatile and original talents. He is well-recognized and honored for his multiple abilities as an interviewer, journalist, commentator, and stage performer. Critically acclaimed for his work, he has interviewed over 3,000 people, including nearly every major sports figure. Curiosity and passion drive Firestone to interview people beyond the realm of sports and from the worlds of art, music, politics, and popular entertainment. His interview subjects are an eclectic mix, ranging from President Richard Nixon to legendary actor James Stewart, and from jazz great Miles Davis to pop icon Madonna. Firestone's work has earned him seven Cable ACE Awards and six Emmy Awards to date. He is also the recipient of the prestigious Northeastern University Award for Broadcast Journalism.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
LARRY CSONKA
Fee Range: $25,000-$30,000
Pro Football Hall of Fame Running Back for the Miami Dolphins

Football legend Larry Csonka led the Miami Dolphins to three consecutive Super Bowl championships, was named Most Valuable Player by his teammates, and set records for most finished touchdowns. In 1987, he was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He has hosted the syndicated television program, “American Gladiators”, and has made television commercials for Norwegian Cruise Lines. Csonka currently hosts and produces “Stihl's North to Alaska” and “Stihl's Csonka Outdoors”, which airs on TNN. These programs showcase his experience as a fisherman and hunter and his enthusiasm for outdoor sports and conservation. Csonka travels the country visiting various clubs and corporations as a Sports Humor/Motivational Speaker. His speeches are laced with humor and dramatic personal experiences, and have been well received by some of the nation's top companies.

JOHNNY BENCH
Fee Range: $25,000-$30,000
Hall of Fame Baseball Legend

Elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1989, Bench is undoubtedly one the greatest catchers in baseball history. His successes include National League Rookie of the Year, National League Most Valuable Player, World Series MVP (1976), 14-time All-Star, and 10 Gold Gloves. In 1999, Bench received baseball's esteemed honor of selection to the All Century Team. In retirement, Bench has maintained a sense of balance by using his celebrity status to aid such worthy causes as the Heart Association and the American Cancer Society. Considered a compelling, entertaining speaker, Johnny has inspired and motivated audiences from the Fortune 500 executives to Boys' & Girls' clubs around the country.

MIKE ERUZIONE
Fee Range: $25,000-$35,000
Famed 1980 Olympics United States Hockey Team Captain

Millions of Americans remember Mike Eruzione as the captain of the United States Hockey Team who beat the odds to win the Gold Medal at the 1980 Olympics in Lake Placid, NY. It was his decisive winning goal that beat the Soviet team and stunned the world. Dubbed the "Miracle on Ice" Walt Disney studios has adapted the story of that Olympic triumph over the Soviets into a feature length film, titled "Miracle," which was released in February 2004. The 1980 Olympic Team received many accolades after winning the goal medal, including being inducted into the United States Olympic Hall of Fame. For the past several years Eruzione has traveled throughout the country representing major corporations as their spokesperson and motivational speaker. Presently he is employed by Boston University as the Director of Development for Athletics.

JACKIE JOYNER-KERSEE
Fee Range: $25,000-$35,000
Three-Time Olympic Heptathlon Gold Medalist

Three-time Olympic Gold Medalist Jackie Joyner-Kersee has built one of the most illustrious athletic careers in the world of track & field. Her performance in the heptathlon and long jump in the 1984, 1988 and 1992 Summer Olympics made her a legend. But her talents are by no means limited to athletic ability. Her drive and commitment are evident in all of her projects, including the JJK Community Foundation, which she created to support the development of leadership programs in urban areas across the United States and her own sports marketing firm, JJK & Associates. Jackie Joyner-Kersee has set over 18 athletic records, received over 24 recognition awards, is a successful businesswoman, respected community leader, and a dynamic motivational speaker who inspires audiences to go after their dreams with passion and commitment.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
MIA HAMM
Fee Range: $30,000-$40,000
World Cup Soccer Champion
Mia Hamm is recognized as the world’s best all-around women’s soccer player and one of the most popular female athletes in history. The all-time leading international scorer, Hamm led the U.S. Olympic team to a gold medal in 1996 and a silver medal in 2000. In 1991, she was the youngest player on the World Championship team, and in 1999, she led the team to another World Cup win. Admired for her athletic ability, sportsmanship, determination and commitment, she has been named one of People magazine’s “50 Most Beautiful People.” She is the author of Go for the Goal: A Champion’s Guide to Winning in Soccer and Life, providing an inspirational account of her efforts to become a champion.

BOBBY BOWDEN
Fee Range: $30,000-$40,000
Renowned Florida State University Football Head Coach
Words like “legend” are often used when describing recently retired Florida State head coach Bobby Bowden and it’s an all too fitting term. Bowden has carved his place in college football history and has etched his name among the all-time greats, beginning with the fact that no other coach in major college football history has won more games. He has gained respect and notoriety in the profession by the manner in which he has achieved these accomplishments. Bowden was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in December 2006. In a rare, yet remarkable gesture, he and Penn State's Joe Paterno were inducted while still actively coaching. The previous rule was that a person must be retired before they can be elected in, but the rule was changed for them. Instead of requiring a person be retired, the National Football Foundation decided to make any active coach over 75 eligible for induction. On any given Sunday he can be found behind the pulpit of a church. When he is not on the football field, Bowden is a top-notch motivational speaker. His presentations are filled with humor focus on leadership, the will to win, and teamwork.

SCOTT HAMILTON
Fee Range: $30,000-$40,000
Olympic Gold Medalist & World Champion Ice Skater; Cancer Survivor
Scott Hamilton is the world's most celebrated figure skater. When he was diagnosed with testicular cancer in 1997, it wasn't the first time Scott Hamilton had to overcome adversity. As a boy, he was plagued by an illness that baffled doctors and he appeared destined to remain only a spectator. When his ailment was finally diagnosed correctly, his courage and determination led him to try figure skating. He immersed himself in skating and went on to become one of its best and most recognizable athletes. In 1981, he won the first of four consecutive national and world titles. His success and popularity led to a longtime association with CBS as a sports analyst. It is Hamilton's most recent challenge with testicular cancer that has once again endeared him to fans around the globe. His new book, Landing It: My Life On and Off the Ice, was recently released. Today, Scott Hamilton is cancer-free. He credits his victory over the disease to a positive attitude and will power.

DICK VERMEIL
Fee Range: $30,000-$40,000
Former Pro Football Head Coach of the Kansas City Chiefs, 1999 Super Bowl Champion, St. Louis Rams and Philadelphia Eagles
One of the most distinguished coaching careers in National Football League history officially concluded when Dick Vermeil announced his retirement from professional football in 2006. Vermeil spent 15 seasons as an NFL head coach — including the past five campaigns with Kansas City — and was a member of the league’s coaching fraternity for a total of 19 seasons. In 15 seasons as an NFL head coach, Vermeil produced a 120-109 regular season record. Combined with a 6-5 (.545) career postseason record that included a perfect 3-0 mark during the ’99 Super Bowl Championship win with the Rams, his final overall NFL head coaching record stands at 126-114.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
DAN BUETTNER
Fee Range: $30,000-$40,000
Internationally Recognized Explorer; Best-selling Author, The Blue Zones: Lessons for Living Longer from the People Who've Lived the Longest
Dan Buettner is The New York Times best-selling author of The Blue Zones: Lessons for Living Longer from the People Who've Lived the Longest, and most recently, Thrive: Finding Happiness the Blue Zones Way. He is an internationally recognized explorer who founded Blue Zones®—a brand that compiles the world’s best practices in health, happiness, and longevity and helps people live longer and better. Since January 2009, Mr. Buettner has led a successful project in Albert Lea, Minnesota, to implement environmental and social changes that improve quality of life and increase each resident's life expectancy. Blue Zones has now collaborated with Healthways on the Healthways-Blue Zones Vitality City initiative to ignite and lead a broad scale, city-by-city movement, to create healthier, happier, and more productive citizens all living and working together in vibrant cities across America.

ROBERT BALLARD
Fee Range: $30,000-$40,000
World Renowned Deep-Sea Explorer Who Discovered the Wreckage of the Titanic
The world’s best-known deep-sea explorer, Dr. Robert Ballard has led and participated in over 110 underwater expeditions, and logged more hours in the deep than any other marine scientist in the world. In 1985, Dr. Ballard and his research team made their most famous discovery—the wreck of the R.M.S. Titanic. As a result of this successful venture, Dr. Ballard founded the JASON Foundation for Education so that thousands of students around the world could share in the excitement of live exploration. He is now president of the Institute for Exploration and a senior scientist emeritus in the Department of Applied Ocean Physics and Engineering at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution. Ballard’s discovery of the Titanic and his other undersea expeditions are a testament to the pioneering spirit and the marvels of discovery.

KEN VENTURI
Fee Range: $30,000-$40,000
Sports Illustrated's Sportsman of the Year; CBS Golf Analyst
Ken Venturi has provided commentary for CBS Sports' coverage of golf since 1968, when he co-hosted the "CBS Golf Championship" and "CBS Golf Classic" with Jack Whitaker. Venturi, the recipient of the 1999 PGA of America's Lifetime Achievement Award in Journalism, turned pro in 1956 and joined the PGA Tour in June 1957. He established himself as one of golf's elite with his 1964 U.S. Open Championship at Congressional Country Club in Washington, D.C. Not only was he named PGA Player of the Year, he was also chosen Sports Illustrated's Sportsman of the Year. He earned a total of 14 PGA Tour victories in his career. He was a U.S. Ryder Cup team member (1965) and a member of the PGA Tournament Committee (1960-62).

BILLY DONOVAN
Fee Range: $30,000-$45,000
2006 NCAA Basketball Champion Head Coach of University of Florida
As a player Billy Donovan was known simply as "Billy the Kid". A kid no more, Donovan concluded his 10th season at the University of Florida atop a place he'd always dreamed of—the ladder at the RCA Dome cutting down the nets in the national title game. A lifelong journey was realized on April 3, 2006 as Donovan guided the University of Florida Gators to its first national title in basketball. By the age of 40 he has done the unthinkable at Florida. He has taken a program that experienced pockets of success and has made history. Donovan was the recipient of the John R. Wooden Award's "Legends of Coaching Award" in 2010 and was recognized by his peers as the 2011 SEC Coach of the Year.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
DARA TORRES
Fee Range:  $35,000-$50,000
Oldest Female Swimmer to Make the Olympics Team
Since her first international race at the age of 14, Dara Torres has proven that she is far from your average athlete. As a student at the University of Florida, she earned the maximum possible number of 28 NCAA All-American swimming awards. As the first US swimmer to compete in four Olympic Games, Dara set three World records and won nine Olympic medals, including four golds. Outside of swimming, Dara has made a name for herself as a TV commentator and a print model and was the first athlete to appear in the Sports Illustrated swimsuit issue in 1994. Torres has successfully made her comeback to competitive swimming by making her 5th Olympic squad. She won a total of 3 silver medals at the Beijing Olympic Games in 2008.

BOOMER ESIASON
Fee Range:  $35,000-$50,000
Former NFL MVP Quarterback for the Cincinnati Bengals
Boomer Esiason, former NFL quarterback headed straight for the broadcast booth upon retiring after 14 years. Esiason made his debut as a commentator for ABC's NFL "Monday Night Football", and called MNF games for two years. In addition, he is also co-host of Westwood One's weekly NFL preview show "In The Huddle" with Chris "Mad Dog" Russo. During the 2001 season, Esiason also served as an analyst on FOX Sports Net's "NFL This Morning". He joined CBS Sports in February 2002 as a studio analyst for the CBS Television Network's NFL pre-game show "The NFL Today". Throughout his career Esiason has been committed and very active in many charitable causes, including the Boomer Esiason Foundation, founded in 1993 in an effort to eliminate the threat of cystic fibrosis after his son Gunnar was diagnosed with the disease.

ARCHIE MANNING
Fee Range:  $40,000-$50,000
Former NFL Pro Bowl Quarterback & League MVP Player
Archie Manning was the League's Most Valuable Player in 1978 and participated in two Pro Bowls. He is the only player in the history of the New Orleans Saints franchise to be inducted into the "Wall of Fame" in the Louisiana Superdome. Manning was voted quarterback of the 25 Year All Saints Team and voted Most Popular Saint in franchise history. Recently, Manning was named the quarterback for The Team of the Century at the University of Mississippi. He is the father of Indianapolis Colts Quarterback Peyton Manning. Archie Manning's appeal transcends his athletic achievements. People far and wide have been inspired by his warm personality, his drive and sense of humor. He hosts four Archie Manning Cystic Fibrosis benefit golf tournaments in Louisiana and Mississippi and is active in a wide variety of charitable and civic causes. Archie has two sons who play quarterback in the NFL: Peyton Manning for the Colts and Eli Manning for the NY Giants. Archie and Peyton have written a book entitled, Manning: a Father, His Sons and a Football Legacy.

ERIK WEIHENMAYER
Fee Range:  $40,000-$50,000
First Blind Mountaineer and Athlete to Climb the Seven Summits of the World
On May 25, 2001, Erik Weihenmayer became the first blind man in history to reach the summit of the world's highest peak - Mount Everest. And on September 5, 2002, when he stood on top of Mt. Kosciusko in Australia, Weihenmayer completed his 7-year quest to climb the Seven Summits - the highest mountains on each of the seven continents, joining only 100 mountaineers who have accomplished that feat. At age 33, he was also one of the youngest. Additionally, he has scaled El Capitan, a 3300-foot overhanging rock wall in Yosemite; and Polar Circu, a 3000-foot ice waterfall in The Canadian Rockies.
GABRIELLA REECE Fee Range: $45,000-$65,000

Professional Volleyball Champion

Six-foot three-inch Gabrille Reece is a beach volleyball league star, model and commercial spokesperson who co-authored her biography Big Girl in the Middle in 1997. Gabby possesses a look that conveys both athleticism and feminine beauty. She competed in volleyball when five months pregnant in the 2007, inspiring women to stay in shape during their pregnancy. Reece recently reunited with Nike as a spokeswoman, and she is an expert and writer for Yahoo-Health. As an actress, Reece has played a number of movie roles. In 2007, Reece and her husband Laird Hamilton, appeared in the ABC reality television series "Fast Cars and Superstars: The Gillette Young Guns Celebrity Race", featuring a dozen celebrities in a stock car racing competition. In 2008, she released "Gabrielle Reece: Fit & Healthy Prenatal Workouts" with exercise guru Mike Monroe. In 2008, Reece was the spokeswoman for Simply Nutrilite, a line developed by Quixtar.

LAIRD HAMILTON Fee Range: $50,000-$60,000

Giant Wave Surfing Pioneer

Laird Hamilton is known as the guiding genius of crossover board sports. Laird is famous for doing all kinds of extreme things in the ocean from making epic long distance journeys on his ocean-going paddleboard to creating the fast forward speed sailing loop. Laird is author of 100: Stalking the Giants of the Ocean and Force of Nature: Mind, Body, Soul, and, Of Course. He doubled as James Bond for ‘Die Another Day’ and served as the stunt coordinator for the film’s big wave sequence. His documentary, “Path of Purpose” details his endeavor to help fund and raise awareness for Autism. Laird started his production company, BamMan Films, with tow-partner, Dave Kalama, and produces for film, television, commercial and media companies.

JON GRUDEN Fee Range: $50,000-$65,000

Super Bowl Champion Head Coach, Tampa Bay Buccaneers

Gruden, the NFL’s youngest head coach at 39, led Tampa Bay to its first Super Bowl title in his first season as head coach in 2002. Gruden became the youngest head coach in NFL history to win a Super Bowl, and he was also the first veteran head coach in the history of the NFL to lead his team to the Super Bowl in his first season with a new team. Prior to his four seasons in Oakland, Gruden spent 1995-97 as offensive coordinator for the Philadelphia Eagles and three years (1992-94) as wide receivers coach for Green Bay Packers. He worked as offensive assistant for the San Francisco 49ers in 1990.

BEN CRENSHAW Fee Range: $50,000-$65,000

PGA Golf Legend

In just six weeks on the tour, Ben Crenshaw captured $79,749 in prize money, including winning the very first PGA Tour event he entered, the San Antonio-Texas Open. Crenshaw's seemingly effortless game and easy-going manner soon garnered him the respect of the other pros and over the years earned him the nickname "Gentle Ben." Winner of 19 PGA titles, including two Masters Tournaments and four international titles, he captured the cover of Sports Illustrated by guiding the 1999 U.S. Ryder Cup Team to the most stunning come-from-behind victory in the history of the event. Branching into new arenas, Crenshaw has also proven himself a skilled businessman and architect. The ideal motivational speaker on teamwork, his leadership, poise and strategic planning in the 1999 Ryder Cup fired up his team to a breathtaking triumph. In 2000 Ben released his memoirs, A Feel for the Game, to Brookline and Back.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
KEY Speakers Bureau
3500 E. Coast Highway, Suite 6, Corona del Mar, CA 92625
800-675-1175, Fax: 949-675-1478

HOWIE LONG  Fee Range: $50,000-$65,000
Hall of Fame Defensive End; FOX Sports Analyst, "NFL Sunday"

Howie Long, former Hall of Fame Defensive End for the Los Angeles Raiders, is currently best known for his position of in-studio analyst for the Emmy Award winning FOX "NFL Sunday" team. Long was twice chosen Defensive Lineman of the Year and was elected to the Pro Bowl eight times. In 2000, Long was one of the youngest players ever inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He launched his successful television and film career and is widely known for his appearances on the big screen as well as the gridiron. He also volunteers his time to the United Way, the Mental Health Association, and he was the chairman of Child Abuse Prevention Month in Virginia. His keen wit and insight make him an entertaining and highly sought-after speaker.

TOMMY LASORDA  Fee Range: $50,000-$65,000
Hall of Fame Baseball Manager for the Los Angeles Dodgers

Tommy Lasorda is the "dean" of active major league baseball managers and a giant in American sports. He took the Dodgers to four World Series and six League Championships. He has also managed six All-Star teams, guiding the National League to victories in 1978, 1979, 1982, and 1984. A true "winner", Lasorda exemplifies what is best in the sport that is known as America's favorite pastime. His ability, attitude, character, and spirit have made him an effective manager, team builder, and spokesman for the game of baseball. Lasorda has been a spokesperson for the American Heart Association and has received honorary doctorate degrees from Pepperdine University, St. Thomas University, Cal State Long Beach, the University of Phoenix and most recently, Concordia University.

REGGIE JACKSON  Fee Range: $60,000-$70,000
Legendary Baseball Hall of Fame Right Fielder; Known as "Mr. October"

Reggie Jackson became the first player to have a candy bar named after him. The peak of Jackson's career came a boisterous five-year stint with the Yankees, which he began by asserting that he was "the straw that stirred the drink," a statement that drew the ire of new teammate Thurman Munson and manager Billy Martin. But the outspoken, flamboyant, muscular outfielder was a winner wherever he went. In 21 seasons, Jackson played on 11 divisional winners, six pennant winners, and five World Champions.

KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR  Fee Range: $60,000-$70,000
NBA Basketball Hall of Famer, Film Producer, Author & Cancer Advocate

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar is considered by many fans and sportswriters to be the greatest basketball player of all time. The 7-foot-2 Hall of Fame center, famous for his indefensible skyhook, dominated the NBA for 20 years, first with the Milwaukee Bucks then with the Los Angeles Lakers. Before that he was the star of the UCLA Bruins team that won three consecutive NCAA championships. Kareem was the NBA's MVP six times, 19-time all-star and set NBA all-time records in nine categories. He is the NBA's all-time leading scorer with 38,387 points, a record that may never be broken. Now Kareem comes to the lecture podium, in an engaging presentation sharing the secrets of success that made history on the court. He is an indispensable speaker on the importance of sustained excellence and goal-setting, and also brings valuable insight about teamwork and leadership. He draws on his acclaimed book, Black Profiles in Courage to explore the untold history of the nation through the achievements of African-Americans.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
JOHN ELWAY
Fee Range: $60,000-$75,000

Pro Football Hall of Fame & Two-Time Super Bowl Champion Quarterback of the Denver Broncos

Strangely, it took John Elway two championships at the end of his career to solidify his place as one of the top quarterbacks in the history of the game. After 16 seasons, Elway retired as the winningest starting quarterback in NFL history with a 148-82-1 record. Elway became the first quarterback to start five Super Bowls, was selected for the Pro Bowl nine times and in 1987 was voted the NFL's Most Valuable Player by the Associated Press. By taking risks as a passer, he made plays other quarterbacks couldn't. "Elway is the master of the inconceivable pass thrown to the unreachable spot," announcer Pat Summerall said. Elway is the only player to amass 50,000 yards passing and 3,000 rushing. He ranks second to Dan Marino in passing yards, completions and 3,000-yard seasons.

JIMMY JOHNSON
Fee Range: $60,000-$75,000

Two-Time NFL Super Bowl Champion Head Coach, Dallas Cowboys; FOX Sports Analyst “NFL Sunday”

Jimmy Johnson was the first coach in football history to win both a Super Bowl title and a national collegiate championship and he is only one of four coaches to secure back-to-back Super Bowl victories. After 5 seasons as the head coach of the Hurricanes, Johnson moved to the NFL to coach the Dallas Cowboys. He retired as the Cowboys' head coach in 1993 and published his autobiography, Turning the Thing Around: Pulling America's Team Out of the Dumps-and Myself Out of the Doghouse. He joined FOX Sports as an analyst for the "NFL Sunday" pre-game show. In 1996, Johnson became the head coach of the Miami Dolphins. In his 4 seasons with the Dolphins, he compiled a 36-28 regular-season record and a 2-3 postseason record. He retired from the Dolphins in 2000 and rejoined FOX "NFL Sunday". He is an entertaining motivational speaker who blends personal anecdotes and experiences to make his points about leadership, team building and personal excellence.

BOB HARPER
Fee Range: $65,000-$75,000

Fitness Expert; Co-Trainer on "The Biggest Loser"

Bob Harper has skyrocketed from being one of the most in-demand fitness specialists in the Los Angeles area to becoming one of the most recognized and popular lifestyle personalities in the world. After being one of the fitness trainers on NBC's worldwide hit "The Biggest Loser" since 2004, Harper has become one of the most credible and sought-after motivational experts on television and DVD, in books, and in personal appearances. In addition to his leadership on "The Biggest Loser", Harper has made appearances on such shows as “Larry King Live”, “CNN Live”, “Extra”, “Access Hollywood”, “Entertainment Tonight” and “Inside Edition”. Harper's optimistic outlook, practical advice and gregarious demeanor have earned him fans and followers all over the country.

BOB COSTAS
Fee Range: $65,000-$80,000

Emmy Award-Winning Sportscaster; Author, Fair Ball: A Fan’s Case for Baseball

Bob Costas has been with NBC Sports since 1979. He anchored NBC's coverage of the last three Summer Olympics and hosted the 2002 Winter Games in Salt Lake City. Costas has been involved in the coverage of six league championship series and five World Series for NBC Sports and he has hosted six Super Bowls. Bob was the play-by-play voice of the NBA on NBC from 1997 through the 1999-2000 seasons. He has won 15 Emmy Awards and has been nominated for Emmys in five different categories. He was named "National Sportscaster of the Year" an unprecedented eight times by his peers. His book, Fair Ball: A Fan's Case for Baseball made the New York Times Best-Sellers List. He went on to host his own late night program, the Emmy-Award winning “Later…. with Bob Costas”, which featured interviews exploring the lives of newsmakers & entertainers.
Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.

DAN MARINO

Pro Football Hall of Fame Quarterback for the Miami Dolphins

Dan Marino, NFL legend, was inducted into the Football Hall of Fame in 2005. Marino played for the Miami Dolphins in the NFL Football League and is widely recognized as one of the greatest quarterbacks in football history. Dan Marino rewrote the National Football League record book in his 17-year career, setting career records for passing yards (61,361), completions (4,967), and touchdown passes (420), and earning nine Pro Bowl berths. In 1992, Marino and his wife, Claire, established The Dan Marino Foundation, after their son, Michael was diagnosed with autism. The foundation has distributed over $7 million to research, services and treatment programs serving children with neurodevelopment disabilities. Dan is currently a commentator for CBS's "The NFL Today Show" and a former studio analyst on HBO's "Inside the NFL".

---

JILLIAN MICHAELS

Fitness Expert; Co-Trainer on "The Biggest Loser"

Jillian Michaels is one of the leading health and wellness experts in the country. Perhaps considered one of the most demanding people on television for her role as trainer and life coach on the NBC hit series "The Biggest Loser" since 2004, Michaels has created a brand name for herself. As a motivator and role model, Jillian has a unique connection with her audience that stems from her own personal journey toward wellness. Before she was a huge TV success, Jillian struggled with her own weight. She was determined to reach her goals — and through dedication and hard work, she did. Each season of "The Biggest Loser," she has trained contestants and one of her trainees has taken the top prize. Jillian lives in Los Angeles. When she's not on set for TV, she enjoys traveling and getting involved in charitable activities, which include her work as an ambassador for the American Cancer Society.

---

BEAR GRYLLS

Adventurer; Discovery Channel Host, "Man Vs Wild"; Author, Facing the Frozen Ocean

Bear Grylls entered the Guinness World Record at the age of 23 as the youngest British to climb Mt. Everest. The actual ascent took Grylls over ninety days of extreme weather, limited sleep and running out of oxygen deep inside the 'death zone' (above 26,000 feet). On the way down from his first reconnaissance climb, Bear was almost killed in a crevasse at 19,000 feet. What makes his story even more remarkable is that during this time he suffered a free-fall parachuting accident in Africa where he broke his back in three places. After months and months of rehabilitation, focusing always on his childhood dream of Everest, he slowly became strong enough to attempt the ultimate ascent of the world's highest peak. Bear has a natural talent for communication and his speaking has brought him worldwide acclaim. He is among the youngest and most successful motivational speakers in the world. Grylls hosts the Discovery Channel's "Man Vs. Wild".

---

MARIO ANDRETTI

Legendary Indy Race Car Champion

This celebrated Indy car champion campaigned in his final season of Champ Car competition on 1994, when he retired from active participation in the sport. His 52 Champ Car victories are second to A.J. Foyt's 67. With Andrett's last win (also his 109th major career victory) at the Phoenix 200 in April 1993, he became the first driver to win Champ Car races in four decades and the first to win races in five decades. Retirement from racing hasn't slowed Mario. His name is now on a winery in Napa Valley, a car dealership, a chain of gas stations and a distributorship, a clothing line, a coffee table book, car washes, go-kart tracks, car care products, an IMAX movie, video games and replica cars.
JOE TORRE
Fee Range: $85,000-$100,000

Baseball Legend and Manager, World Championship New York Yankees

In 1995, after only one year at the helm of the Yankees, Joe Torre led the team to their first World Series title since 1978. Torre led the Yankees to 114 wins during the following regular season, an American League record. He has been named "Sportsman of the Year" by The Sporting News and "Co-Manager of the Year" by the Baseball Writers Association of America. He is also author of Joe Torre's Ground Rules for Winners: 12 Keys to Managing Team Players, Tough Bosses, Setbacks, and Success and Chasing the Dream, My Lifelong Journey to the World Series, an autobiography detailing his 30-year wait as a manager and player to finally win the World Series. A prostate cancer survivor, he is involved with CAP Cure, an organization that raises money for prostate cancer research. He established the Joe Torre Safe at Home Foundation, whose guiding principle is that every child has the right to be safe at home.

PAT RILEY
Fee Range: $85,000-$100,000

Basketball Head Coach & President, Miami Heat

Pat Riley is an American professional basketball executive, and a retired coach and player in the NBA. Currently, he is team president of the Miami Heat. Widely regarded as one of the greatest NBA coaches of all time, Riley has served as the head coach of five championship teams and an assistant coach to another. He most recently won the 2006 NBA Championship with the Miami Heat. Prior to his tenure in Miami, he served as head coach for the Los Angeles Lakers and the New York Knicks. He was named NBA Coach of the Year three times, as head coach of the Lakers, Knicks and Heat. He was head coach of the NBA All-Star Game teams nine times. In 1996 he was named one of 10 Greatest Coaches in the NBA history. As a player he played for the Los Angeles Lakers' championship team in 1972, bringing his personal total to seven NBA titles. Author of Showtime and The Winner Within, Riley shows what it takes to be a winner in a competitive environment – year after year.

TROY AIKMAN
Fee Range: $85,000-$100,000

Three-Time NFL Super Bowl Champion Quarterback, Dallas Cowboys; NFL Football Analyst for FOX Television

One of the most popular players in NFL history, Troy Aikman has been extraordinarily successful throughout his entire life. A collegiate All-American, NFL All-Pro, Super Bowl MVP, NFL Man of the Year and Future Hall of Famer, Aikman’s achievements are legendary. As a speaker, Aikman brings that same passion to his audiences as he shares the principles and lessons that have propelled him to personal and professional excellence. Now one of the most respected broadcasters on FOX, Aikman continues to provide key insights and thoughtful analysis for fans around the world. His accomplishments off the field are just as impressive supporting many worthwhile causes throughout the country. In 1992, he established the Troy Aikman Foundation, which benefits children in the Dallas, Texas area.

WAYNE GRETZKY
Fee Range: Over $100,000

NHL Hockey Hall of Fame Legend; Head Coach of the Phoenix Coyotes

In his 20 year career with four teams Wayne "The Great One" Gretzky, set every major offensive record in the history of the sport, including 92 goals, 163 assists, 215 points in a season, 894 goals, 1,963 assists, and 2,877 points in his career. He won the Hart Trophy as league MVP eight consecutive times, nine over all, The Art Ross Trophy as league scoring champion 10 times and led the Oilers to four Stanley Cup championships. Gretzky also helped Team Canada win three Canada Cup titles. Only seven months after his retirement in 1999, Gretzky was inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto, Canada, becoming the tenth and final player in Hockey Hall of Fame history to have the mandatory three-year waiting period for enshrinement waived by the Hall's board of directors.

Speaker fees often vary based upon length of presentation, location of event and other factors. Typically, travel and expenses are additional costs above speaker fees. Please call or email to be quoted an exact fee for your event as well as the expense requirements of speakers of interest. Fees as of January 2012.
MAGIC JOHNSON

Fee Range: Over $100,000

Legendary NBA Hall of Fame Point Guard for the Los Angeles Lakers; CEO, Magic Johnson Enterprises

Following a legendary career during which he achieved every imaginable goal from a player’s perspective and established himself as one of the NBA’s all-time greatest performers, Magic Johnson is now making strides off the court as the Los Angeles Lakers’ vice president. During his 12-year NBA career, he led the Lakers to five NBA championships and nine appearances in the NBA Finals. After announcing his retirement from the NBA in 1991, due to the HIV Virus, Johnson’s immense popularity resulted in his being voted as a starter in the 1992 All-Star Game. While Johnson may best be known for his prowess on the basketball court, he is also an entrepreneur with multi-faceted business interests. His latest venture develops commercial property in long-neglected minority urban and suburban neighborhoods.